One that will be suitable with a pongee suit, has a dark blue band at the top, about five inches wide, and there is another blue band about three inches another blue band about three inches wide at the edge. The intervening space is of tan pongee, embroidered in the same shade of blue in a conventional design. This has a natural wood handle, and the price is only $3.50. Another more moderstely priced one is of plain pongee with a rose colored Dresden border. This is marked only $1.75.

A substitute for the higher priced anama straw hat is to be found in the hemp hat, which is to be popular this summer, and which is much cheaper than the Panama. Some of these hats are being shown in a store on G street, between Eleventh and Twelfth, made in any number of attractive models. They are given individuality in color by bindings of ratine and decorations in straw. They come from a New York firm which deals exclusively in tailored hats. These hats are being offered for 18, while Panamas cannot be had for less than $12. this summer, and which is much cheaper

Ratine is the new wash material which nes in white and all colors, and as well as for entire garments. It also comes in flouncings, which may be used on other cloth. Some children's hats, made entirely of ratine, are shown in an F street department store, which are serviceable, as well as moderately priced, being only $4. which is used extensively for trimming,

For general utility wear, nothing in the dress goods line equals mohair for lightness, durability, and dust repelling qualities. GOLDENBERG'S BUYS DENNIS &

Big Purchase of Women's Seasonable Garments to Be Put on Sale.

One of the most important business deals made for some time has just been by Goldenberg's, involving the rchase of the entire stock of women's high-class apparel and men's shoes, of Dennis & Ellis, 1807 F street north- away, all of the boxes available last west. This specialty store, it is stated, year have been sold and a large number is not retiring from business, but has of the new boxes now being added have decided to close out its lines of womes, waists, evening wraps and other ready-to-wear gar- clety ments, also its stock of men's shoes, in order to devote its entire attention in the future to women's footwear.

All the other lines, with the exception of woman's footwear, have been acquired by Goldenberg's, who announced they will place them on sale Thursday morning at their Seventh street store.

they will place them en sale Thursday morning at their Seventh street store.

F street shoppers are well acquainted with the reputation enjoyed by Dennis & Ellis for handling only high-class merchandise. The lines of women's apparel and footwear were all carefully chosen and are of unquestioned quality and correct style.

The decision to retire from the field of women's apparel needs and devote their entire business to women's footwear was reached after spring and summer stocks had been purchased, and the present opportunity to buy brand new, up-to-date garments of the highest class and most approved style will be appreciated by those who are afforded the privilege.

Goldenberg's bought the Dennis & Ellis stock on a basis that allows the halving of prices on the choicest merchandise, and in many instances the advantages are even greater.

The stock of men's footwear embraces the best known and most popular trademark brands, and many widely adver-

Civil War Ended 47 Years Ago Today

Forty-seven years ago today the civil war was officially ended. On April 9, 1865, Gen. Robert E. Lee surrendered at Appomatox Court House to Gen. Ulysses Grant. One year later the civil rights In was passed over the veto of President Johnson, and five years after the surrender of Lee the American Anti-Slavery Society dissolved after an existence of thirty-seven years. On April 9, 1893, Andrew G. Magrath, a leader of the secession movement in South Carolina, died. Eighty years ago today more than 100 lives were lost when the steamer Brandywine burned in the Mississippi river off Memphis. On this day, 1894, a number of lives were lost when the Davidson Theater burned in Milwaukee. One year ago a fire in Tokyo. Japan destroyed 5,000 houses.

SALE OF BOXES FOR HORSE SHOW IN MAY ELLIS STOCKS HAS BROKEN RECORD

Entries From Virginia Insure Classy Performances

Sale of boxes for the National Capital Horse Show to be held here May 1 to t, inclusive, has already broken records for Washington shows of the kind. With the show yet three weeks already been contracted for.

Thirty-nine boxes accomodated show last year, and twenty-four new ones are being added. If the rate of sale keeps up for the next few days still more may have to be added. Officials of the show assert that this early sale forecasts the largest attendance at any horse show ever given in the capital. At the same time positive assurance is at hand of far more entries than last year.

"Virginians are taking a really deep interest, in the National Capital Cow," said District Surveyor Meivin C. Hazen, returning from Warrenton and Manassas today. Practically all of the blus ribbon winners at the Warrenton show yesterday will e seebn in Washington, according to the promise of the owners to Mr. Hazen.

yesterday will e seebn in Washington, according to the promise of the owners to Mr. Hazen.

Those who saw the famous jumper Houstabout clear the bar again and again at 5 feet il inches last year will learn with interest that Louis Leith, of Warrenton, who brought Roustabout to Washington, has another jumper for this season of similar ability. Roustabout was sold after the horse show to Judge W. H. Moore, who presented the horse to the United States Army through Gen. Leonard Wood. The horse show as the shown in the London Horse Show as the entry of the ormy.

Richard Wallach, whose green hunter, Irish Nora won first honors in that class, and the lightweight hunter class at Warrenton yesterday, will bring this and several other horses to Washington next month. J. K. Maddux, whose Pall Mall captured the Hunt Club Steeplechase at Warrenton, is another entrant, according to Mr. Hazen. Other Virginians who will enter are William Skinker and Dr. W. S. Sowers, also Warrenton men. W. F. Hale and H. W. Herring, of Nokesville, Va., also promise to exhibit several jumpers. The Keswick Hunt Clumb an dthe Castle Hunt Club, of Virginia, and the Fort Meyer hunters will enter teams again this year. The army men ride in uniform, but the Virginia riders in the pink coats of the hunting field will furnish again one of the spectacular features of the show.

COMMON GARDEN SAGE RESTORES GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

A Simple Remedy for Dandruff, superior preparation of Sage, combined Falling Hair, Itching Scalp Faded and Gray Hair.

The old idea of using Sage for darkour grandmothers had dark, glossy hair at seventy-five, while our mothers are gray before they are fifty. Our grandmothers kept their hair soft and glossy with a "Sage Tea," which also restored the natural color.

One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it.

This objection has been overcome by the Wyeth Chemical Company of New York, who has placed on the market a simple, harmless remedy will bring back the color in a few days; and don't be tormented with dandruff, itching scalp and loose, failing hairs. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy will quickly correct these troubles, and give color, strength and beauty to your hair.

Get a fifty cent bottle from your druggist today, and prove this to your own satisfaction. All druggists sell it, under guarantee that the money will be refunded if the remedy is not exactly as represented. Agent, James O'Donnell.

THIN FOLKS MADE PLUMP

Samose Ideal Flesh Builder, Says Druggist Jas. O'Donnell.

Thin people are simply suffering from want of neurishment!

If you are thin, it is because the food you eat is not assimilated and passes through the system without building up the flesh and tissue as it should.

You can readily get plump and rosy by using Samose, a tissue forming food which when taken with the meals, immediately becomes a flesh building and life giving element in the blood.

Samose builds up the system, puts flesh on the bones, brings back the glow of health to the pallid cheek and removes the tired and languid feeling which is the result of exhaustion and low vitality.

James O'Donnell is introducing Samose to his customers and recommends it highly, he gives the best proof of his belief that Samose will do all that is claimed for it by offering to refund the money if it falls to increase the weight and restore good health.

tell you he loves me best and gives me the tenderest of his smiles. See how tall I am and how gorgeous are my colors. He loves me best."

"When it comes to sweetness I am sure you have forgotten me." said the honeysuckle. "Why, the king of day loves me best, you may be sure. He makes me give forth more sweetness than any of you."

"You may be very sweet," said the pansy, "but surely you know that my pet name is heart's ease and that the sun loves me best. Look at my beautiful soft, rich colors. To none of you does he give such velvet beauty as to me. I am nearest his heart and his best beloved."

NE day the flowers got into a very angry discussion over the sun, of whom they were the sun, and the gives me polors that are most admired by the Dahila. "Tou may give forth the Sun of the Market Tou and the Market Tou the colors that are most admired by man."

"I do not see how you can say that," said the Dahlia. "You may give forth more fragrance than I can, but you cannot think for a second that you are more beautiful. Why, my colors are richer than yours and last much longer. The sun certainly loves me the best."

The modest lily looked at the dahlia are richer than yours and last much longer. The sun certainly loves me the best."

The modest lily looked at the dahlia and said in a low, sweet voice: "I do not wish to be boid, but I feel that the sun loves me and that I should let you know that he gives to me more fragrance than to any of you."

"Oh, oh! Hear lily," said the others in chorus. "She thinks the king of the day loves her best."

The lily hung her head and said no more, for the other flowers quite frightened her with their taunts.

"How can any of you think you are the best beloved of the sun," said golden glow. "When you behold my glowing color which the sun bestows on me, do any of you look so much like him as I do? No, indeed; he loves me best."

The hollyhock looked down on the others with pitying glances. "It is plain to be seen that you have never noticed."

giances.

A little later one of the flowers called out: "Look at merning glory, she is still sleeping; let us tell her it is time "Morning glory, morning glory," they called, but she did not answer. She was sound asleep.
"That is strange," said the rose. "I wonder if she has gone to sleep never to awake. I have heard of such things hannening."

After two or three mornings the other flowers ceased to notice morning glory, for they thought she had ceased to be one of them, but the wise sunflower kept her own counsel. She knew that morning glory had to sleep all day in order that she might not miss the sun; but, as I told you, she was wise enough not to complain, and she kept his love for her by so doing. for her by so doing.
